Board of Pardons. State Senator Mott's decision to introduce a bill into the next legislature creating a state board of pardons is to be City, Mo. commended. Such a board would doubtless meet with the approval of the entire state, and the experience of other states snows that it is much better to vest the pardoning power in a board than solely in the hands of the governor. The creation of such a board, as Senator Mott explains, will be no reflection upon Gov. Stephens, but will doubtless be a measure which the governor himself will indorse. It will not only relieve him of much responsibility, but will also relieve him of the necessity of listening to long appeals for executive clemency.

Prosperity for Farmers.

The farmers of the United States are enjoying prosperity this year, especially in the Great West, where they have suffered most since the panic of 1893. Not only did they share the hard times and stagnation of business in common with all other classes of the community, but the world was producing more grain than it needed, and prices were consequently too low to render their operations profitable to any large extent. This year, however, the American farmers are favored by the combination of a shortage in the wheat crop of Europe, and of those countries which compete with us in wheat exports, with a home crop enormous in yield and magnificent in quality.

The managers of the Western railroad lines all expect a year of prosperity. The wheat crop is larger than ever before grown in the West, with the exception of one year only. Already the roads are anxious because of a shortage of

The corn area is the largest ever known; the hay crop is immense throughout the grazing sections, and the live stock raisers are jubilant as a consequence. The crop of oats is above the verage; rye, barley and potatoes promise equally well. Everything is coming the farmers' way in this favored year.

The increase in the value of wheat, corn and oats, and of hogs, cattle and sheep, this year in the entire West is onservatively estimated at $350,000,000. In other words, the farmers of the West today are wealthier than they were a year ago by a sum equal to half the entire bonded debt of the United States. This is a bad year for the calamity howlers. They have in the past made the farmers their especial victims. But the great agricultural states are more prosperous this year than for half a de-"I crave but One Minute," said the cade. Canal Across Florida.

The latest proposition in the way of ship canals is a cut across Florida from Cedar Keys to St. Augustine, which, according to the New Orleans Timesays: "I never lived a day for thirty Democrat, is a project that is being acyears without suffering agony, until a tively considered by certain New York box of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve and Florida capitalists. A., Kansas the possibilities and probabilities of the future in store for us. The increase of shipping at Southern ports and the increasing percentage of the national foreigu trade passing through those ports make it apparent that the Northwest is not limited to New York or the East for access to its foreign markets. A most gratifying feature of the proposed Florida canal is that it is to be an entirely private enterprise, in which neither the assistance nor the partnership of the United States is asked for. The reason is that the work is not so difficult as might appear, and government aid is unnecessary. It being also entirely within the limits of the United States, there is no need for government partnership or control in order to protect the owners in their rights. This is the estimated revenue under the provisions of the conference report, based on the importations of the calendar year, 1896, by schedule: Schedule A-Chemicals, oils and

Just now while the subject of the annexation of Hawaii is being discussed it may be well to refresh one's mind with a little bit of history, and Democratic history as well. It will be remembered that Texas, which gained its independence of Mexico in 1836, asked for admission into the Union in 1837, but the proposition for annexation was rejected by the senate. The South, however wanted Texas for the votes which it would bring to the slave interest in the would bring to the slave interest in the senate, and an annexation treaty was The St. Joseph negotiated by John C. Calhoun, then secretary of state under President Tyler. in April, 1844, but a large majority was cast against the treaty in the senate.

Annexation became the dominant issue wheel in ride. IT IS A '97 UP-TO-DATE, easy riding THE KANSAS CITY JOURNAL, was assured of an overwhelming vote in the Democratic convention of 1844, was defeated because he opposed annexation, and Polk, an annexationist, was nominated. Polk's election was received Great by congress as a mandate in favor of annexation, and a joint resolution for annexation was passed by the house. The senate annexed it by authorizing the president, in his discretion, to annex by treaty, as he had attempted to do the preceding year, and the house accepted and Tyler signed the bill in that form. Tyler disregarded the treaty permission. embraced the joint resolution option, and on the last day of his service sent : message to Texas with the annexation terms, which were accepted by that Republic's congress, ratified by its people, endorsed by a joint resolution of our own congress, and signed by Polk on December 29, 1849. Thus Texas was the credit of the city is above reproach St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and the State of Missouri should lead the van in the new march of progress as they represent all that is best of American enterprise and American genius, and have, withal, the greatest capital of resources and natural wealth. Let every man, however humble his business, expand the circle of his trade by industriously exploiting his wares:

The new era is here, the advance agent of prosperity has billed the country, and the whole show is coming just as fast as steam and electricity can turn is being transported. Let the calamity shrickers flee to the mountains of Hepsican see nothing but the golden dawn of prosperity; we can hear nothing but the thrill of the new activity.
